Mission
To create a better everyday life for anyone who faces challenges during communicating and helping them to become more confident, empathetic, and patient human beings.

We wish to nurture our teachers, parents, and elders to welcome candid dialogue in classrooms and families by awareness campaigns that challenge cultural norms like hierarchy, promote difficult conversations and ask critical questions.

Vision
We see a world where people listen and respect each other’s differences and are connected through direct, purposeful, and profound communication.

Our Founder Puneet Singh Singhal recently finished his first batch of mentoring young and talented college going students. The students were full of energy and potential; all they need little guidance and attention. The Weekly meets were full of interaction on topics like communication, career decisions, studies, family and mental health.

FEA Student

I feel blessed to have Puneet as my mentor. Every session, I attended with him was commendable. At the same time, I got the answer of every question that I had always wanted to know. Whether it is about how to say no to anyone or how to avoid people who waste my time. He has shown me the right way of dealing with such situations where I was struggling a lot. Once again thank very much for being so supportive.

Such people are rarely found, who are what they say. And that person is Puneet. I met Puneet for the first time in the FEA mentorship program. And since then I started observing him. During the program, he answered many questions of many students very well. After listening and observing them for a long time, I became clear that Puneet is really a clean hearted and passionate person. It was a pleasure meeting Puneet.
